

DATE: Tuesday, November 12, 2019

TIME: 6 PM—7:30 PM

PLACE: North Shore Library
6800 N. Port Washington Rd.

For more information and to register,
call: 414-351-3461

S.T.A.R.T. talking. Workshop

Talk to Protect: Conversations about sex.

If you find it is difficult or embarrassing to talk about sex, you are not alone. The most important thing is that you begin to have the talks that matter. Youth who feel the support of their parents and know their expectations and values have more success and better health. Inform yourself in order to protect and guide your sons and daughters.

- Clarify your messages and values about sex.
- Learn more about the risks and behaviors youth face today.
- Speak with other parents about the topic.

Every parent is going to have a different way of approaching the conversation. Sex, and all its nuances, is not a topic you want to leave to Google. During this two-hour S.T.A.R.T. (Sex Talk as Real Talk) workshop you will learn ways to make the conversation less awkward, when the best time to talk with your child about sex is, and discover how to extend teachable moments as your child moves through the teen years. You will also receive tips and resources that will support you as you put the ideas presented into practice.

Presented by: trained facilitators from The Parenting Network and funding for curriculum development by:

It's all about timing!

